DesignForge is a community-driven platform for finding, uploading, and sharing project ideas with DIY creators and designers.

DesignForge offers a platform for people who enjoy making things to share their works with others. Our community provides engineers, designers, and DIY creators with inspiration for their next big project. We provide a service where members can browse through projects ideas, upload their own, and share them with other community members. Project categories include 3D printing, electronics, woodworking, and more – the only limit is your imagination. Our company's goal is simple: to inspire bright minds to create amazing stuff.
